Company Law and Restructuring

Pursuant to the Foreign Arbitral Awards Enforcement Act (Cayman Islands) 1997 legal proceedings are stayed if they concern any "matter" falling within the scope of the arbitration agreement unless that agreement is "inoperative". Although the court has exclusive jurisdiction to decide whether it is just and equitable to wind up a company, this did not render the arbitration agreement "inoperative" and some of the "matters" raised in the petition were arbitrable and, therefore, were to be determined in arbitration proceedings.

- Company Limited BVICHM 2022/0101. - Fieldfisher v Pennyfeathers Ltd [2016] EWHC 566. An administration order could not be made where a former client refused to pay fees under a conditional fee agreement which included an arbitration clause because an agreement to arbitrate could not be by-passed by issuing proceedings.
