Oliver is an experienced commercial barrister who specialises in insolvency, civil fraud and asset recovery, and cases relating to companies, joint ventures and trusts. He is recommended for Restructuring/Insolvency in Chambers UK and for Insolvency and Civil Fraud in The Legal 500.

Oliver has particular expertise in cases involving allegations of wrongdoing and dishonesty by directors, trustees and other fiduciaries as well as high value, international shareholder disputes.

Oliver is a formidable advocate who appears regularly in the High Court and the Court of Appeal, both on his own account and as part of large legal teams. He has recently appeared as a junior in two complex commercial appeals in the Court of Appeal: LA Micro [2023] EWCA Civ 214 and Floreat [2023] EWCA Civ 440. He prides himself on providing clear, practical and commercial advice.

Oliver was appointed as a member of the Insolvency Rules Committee in October 2022 and has recently been involved in reviewing new special administration rules for the nuclear sector.

Insolvency

Insolvency work plays a key role in Oliver's practice and he is instructed in high value and complex insolvency disputes as well as commercial disputes with an insolvency angle. He also has expertise in relation to insolvent estates and trusts.

Oliver acts for office-holders, companies and individuals. His recent clients include a leading third-party funder, a major airline and an international bank, as well as a major overseas insurer and high net worth individuals.

He is regularly instructed in office-holder claims (such as claims relating to preferences, transactions at an undervalue, misfeasance and also wrongful trading claims), claims about transactions defrauding creditors, as well as many other types of insolvency application, such as applications for an injunction to restrain the presentation or the giving notice of a winding up petition.

He is familiar with the Corporate Governance and Insolvency Act 2020, including the moratorium procedure, and its application by the courts, in addition to the restructuring plan provisions of the Act.

Oliver has extensive experience of high-value bankruptcy proceedings, and also has experience of inquiries into the bankrupt's dealings and property.

Recent work includes:

- Re Lehman Brothers (PTG) Ltd [2023] EWHC 3084 (Ch): Hildyard J gave guidance for administration extension applications.

Oliver also acted successfully in a contested bankruptcy petition and advised on potential applications against third parties arising out of their failure to liquidate assets.
- Acted for the debtor, who owed £42m to a Russian bank, in bankruptcy proceedings.
- Acted for the joint supervisors of a failed IVA in their successful petition to bankrupt a former England footballer.
- Successfully opposed a winding-up petition for a football club.

Civil Fraud

Oliver specialises in high value, complex commercial fraud cases and cross-border disputes, making full use of his related expertise in commercial litigation, insolvency, and disputes involving companies, joint ventures and trusts.

He has considerable experience of worldwide freezing orders, choice of law and jurisdiction disputes, and applications to serve out of the jurisdiction. His cases often involve without notice applications for interim relief, contested injunction applications, cross-examination on asset disclosure, and contempt of court applications, in addition to passport delivery up and travel restriction orders.

Oliver regularly appears in commercial claims involving allegations of dishonesty, deceit, conspiracy, inducing breach of contract, and unjust enrichment. He also handles cases concerning fraud in relation to the management of trusts. He has particular experience in claims involving misappropriation by fiduciaries, including directors and trustees.

Asset recovery forms a significant part of his practice and is an area in which his expertise in insolvency, company and trusts law are a significant advantage.

Recent work:

- Floreat Investment Management Limited v (1) Churchill & Ors [2023] EWCA Civ 440: a $ multi-million claim in deceit, breach of fiduciary duty, conspiracy, dishonest assistance and knowing receipt involving three fund managers who allegedly misappropriated interest payments on a loan to Reading Football Club and failed to demand payments due to the fund.
